

CITY NEWS.

JOB PRINTING—In plain and fancy colors—executed with neatness and dispatch. Call and examine our specimens and learn prices.

To the Advertising Patrons of the Democrat.

We have already notified many of the advertising patrons of the Democrat that owing to the advancing price of everything used in the publication of a newspaper, and the increased wages of printers and others, we are compelled to adopt a new scale of rates, to commence on the 1st of January, 1864.

We have inclosed a circular to our advertisers generally. The rates will apply to all old patrons, as well as new ones. This change is imperatively demanded by our increased expenses in producing the paper, and is reluctantly accepted. When the greatly increased circulation of the Democrat is taken into account, the schedule rates do not make it more costly in proportion to publicity given than it has been heretofore.

If any of our old patrons do not feel inclined to adopt the new rates they will please inform us; and should we not, in a reasonable space of time, hear from them, we shall consider them as having assented to the changes. If any desire to change their mode of advertising, or to increase or reduce the quantity of matter, they will please call at the office.

A DISGRACEFUL ROW—ONE WOMAN BADLY CUT BY ANOTHER.—The degradation which follows a love of strong drink is often strikingly exemplified, and that, too, in a manner that is apt to make persons shudder who have the welfare of their fellow-men or women at heart. When a man becomes the victim of intemperance he is sure to sink very low; but when this is the case with a woman, no one can fathom the depth of degradation to which she is liable to sink.

On yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, a scene occurred on Marshall street which might shock even the most degraded. Two prostitutes, inmates of two of the lowest dens of infamy to be found on that street, got into a difficulty, in which one of them, Jennie Rivers, was seriously cut by Cynthia Stevens. The difficulty occurred about a man, who was in the habit of visiting both of them. The parties met in the coffeehouse of one Smith, on Marshall street, between Hancock and Clay, where some angry words passed between them. Jennie Rivers left the bar-room first, and was followed by Cynthia Stevens, who ordered her to stop. Some words passed between them on the street, when Cynthia Stevens stabbed Jennie Rivers three times, once in the left breast near the heart, which wound would probably prove fatal, once in the head and once in the left arm. She was arrested and lodged in jail by officers Tiller and Gillmore. The wounded girl was taken to the hospital, where her wounds were dressed.

THE WEATHER—Yesterday was one of the most disagreeable days we ever remember to have experienced. On Sunday evening and Sunday night a considerable amount of rain fell, and at an early hour yesterday morning it commenced snowing, and it melted almost as fast it fell. The streets were in a most wretched condition, the mud and slush being so deep that foot passengers were hardly able to walk half a square out of their way in order to cross the streets. It was snowing all day, and had the ground been in good condition the snow would have been one foot in depth. At the present writing (1 o'clock A. M.) it is still snowing.

A beautiful dress sword has been presented to Maj. Geo. Welling, of the Fourth Kentucky cavalry, by his regiment, bearing this inscription: "Presented to Maj. Geo. Welling, as a token of respect for him as an officer and soldier." This gentleman is deservedly popular in the army. His undaunted courage and universal kindness and devotion of character has won the respect and esteem of his fellow soldiers.

The following re-enlisted veterans arrived from the front on Sunday: 4th and 6th Kentucky cavalry, 65th, 45th, 145th and 103d New York, 64th Illinois, 2d Ohio heavy artillery, 5th Connecticut and 14th Pennsylvania.

We understand the "Merchants' Club," composed of a number of leading business men of this city, propose to give a concert for the benefit of soldiers disabled in service, and it will no doubt be a grand affair.

We learn that the entire Louisville Legion have re-enlisted, and that they will arrive in our city in a few days. Our citizens are making preparations to give them a public reception.

We learn that a grand ball will shortly be given in this city for the benefit of the wounded and sick soldiers. It will be a grand affair, and will no doubt be largely attended.

The Seventy-third Pennsylvania, having re-enlisted in the veteran corps, arrived here yesterday. They are en route for their homes, on a furlough of thirty days.

PAID OFF.—The officers and soldiers on duty at Barracks No. 1 and Exchange Barracks were paid off on Sunday.

EXCITEMENT AT THE RIVER

The Gorge of Ice Broken—Towboat Grey Fox and Two Barges Sunk—Fears that there will be Great Destruction of Property—Other Items.

At a late hour on Sunday night the gorge of ice, which had formed at the foot of Tow-head gave way, and the large fields and mountains of ice swept down the river, carrying everything in their reach. The steamboatmen and coal dealers were very busy yesterday endeavoring to save their property from destruction, and it was only by the superhuman labors of the coalboatmen that a large number of the loaded barges lying at our wharf were not sunk or carried away by the floating ice. In the afternoon the ice again began to gorge, and all the boats along the wharf last evening were completely hemmed in, and nearly all in danger of being destroyed should the ice suddenly break loose. The river was rising yesterday, and during the evening it swelled some four inches.

Early yesterday morning, when the ice began running, the immense cakes piled over each other, forming perfect mountains of ice, some of which were fully fifteen feet above the surface of the water. The noise caused by the cracking of the ice could be heard for a long distance, and the scene, as viewed by the river, was truly grand, forming a beautiful panorama. The ice, as it came dashing down along the shore struck the upper fleet of coalboats, sinking one belonging to Hyatt & Payne, and one belonging to a man whose name we did not learn, and it was with great difficulty that the whole fleet was prevented from being carried away by the rushing ice. The towboat Gray Fox had steam up, and succeeded in holding these boats to the shore, while the ice all around was piling up mountain-high. The kept coming down with great force, and one cake of immense size struck the towboat Grey Fox, cutting a large hole in her side. The boat filled rapidly with water, and in a few moments she capsized, and now lies at the foot of Clay street, nearly the ice boat being under the water, and the ice gorged in tightly around her. The Grey Fox was owned by Hyatt & Payne of this city, who had purchased her but a few days since for the sum of fifteen thousand dollars. The boat will prove a total loss, it being impossible to save any of her machinery. The boilers fell from the boat at the time she capsized. There was no insurance on the boat. The pilot who was at the wheel of the Grey Fox made a very near escape from drowning. The boat which was sunk will be saved in a damaged condition.

Great fears are entertained by river and boatmen that there will be considerable destruction of property when the ice breaks up. There are at the wharf twenty-six barges loaded, each of which contain about twenty thousand bushels. At Tow-head there are several small barges, and four large ones are lying at the efferoville wharf.

The weather for the past two days has been such as will cause a sudden rise in the river, and if that rise should be sudden and rapid no power on earth can save the coalboats now lying on our wharf. The ice is gorged from the shore to about the middle of the river, and but little if any damage will be done until the shore ice gives away. We yesterday paid a visit to the river, going along the entire wharf, and the facts as related are not exaggerated. Gentlemen who have made an examination inform us that at some places the ice has been piled up until it is from fifteen to twenty-five feet in thickness, and when these great piles begin to move they carry with them such great force as to sweep away the coalboats.

Notwithstanding the great amount of ice floating in the river, persons were crossing in shifts, taking passengers over for the moderate price of one dollar per head. The shifts are pulled around between the cakes, doing the floating ice. Some four or five shifts were kept busy all day, and the owners did a large and profitable business. A number of persons are amusing themselves on the ice near the shore, some boys enjoying the fine sport of skating. On yesterday two lads who were on the ice got on a place where it was thin, and they broke through. Their cries attracted the attention of some men near by, who threw a rope to the drowning boys, and thus saved them from a watery grave. If this weather should continue it is generally believed that the new gorge which has been formed will give way during the present week.

Escape of Rebel Prisoners While En Route for Johnson's Island—One of the Officers Arrested in This City.—On Saturday a dispatch was received here by Provost Marshal D. C. Fitch, stating that six rebel prisoners, all of whom were officers, made their escape at Seymour, Indiana, from the guard having them in charge. The officers left this city Thursday last with fifty prisoners for Camp Chase, and when arriving at Seymour, where the Jeffersonville railroad crosses the Ohio and Mississippi, the train on the latter road was behind time, and it became necessary for the party to wait until the train came along. During the interval, Capt. Perkins and five other officers, in some manner—how we are not informed—made their escape.

On Sunday evening Lieutenant Lloyd, of the patrol guard, had Perkins coming out of the Galt House, and observing that he wore a Confederate vest, had his suspicions aroused, and, hastily turning, halted him. Perkins advanced, and, slapping Lieutenant Lloyd on the shoulder, remarked: "Well, you have got me again," and acknowledged that he was Captain Perkins. The Lieutenant had never seen him before, but felt in nowise inclined to dispute his word, and accordingly lodged him in the military prison.

Perkins stated that he slipped away from the officers at Seymour, and walked down the railroad a piece, where he awaited the train, and took passage on it to Jeffersonville. He disclaims having any knowledge of the others who escaped, and says that he came to the city alone. His father lives in Middle Tennessee, near Franklin, and he intended to go from this city to Memphis, from which place he could easily reach his home.

The Bardonia Ename Institute, Rev. J. A. Clarkson, Principal, will commence its forty-fifth session, February 1, 1864. This Institute was established in 1819, and we are pleased to state, is in a highly prosperous condition, and under the control of Mr. Atkinson, who we are confident, will achieve continued success. Bardonia is a beautiful and healthy locality, and the terms of tuition and board are moderate—considerations which all will appreciate. We recommend the school to those who have daughters to educate.

BARRACKS ITEMS.—Forty convalescent soldiers, one hundred recruits from Columbus, Ohio, and thirteen deserters from Nashville, were received at Barracks No. 1 yesterday. One hundred and twelve convalescents were sent forward to their regiments. The following number of deserters were sent off in iron: Five to Lexington, fifteen to Nashville, one to Galatin, one to Camp Thomas and three to Indianapolis.

We invite the attention of our mechanics and builders to an advertisement of a contract for building a new courthouse. Proposals must be sent in before the 31st inst.

About eleven o'clock Saturday night the locomotive and five passenger cars run off the tracks on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad, near Mooreville. Fortunately no one was injured.

SELLING LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS—A NUMBER OF BAR-ROOMS CLOSED—ROWDINESS ON THE STREETS.—During the past few days a large number of regiments, who have re-enlisted in the veteran corps, have arrived in this city, and a number of them are waiting to be paid off at this place. Their descriptive rolls are being made out as fast as possible, and they will be paid during the present week. While the rolls are being made out the soldiers have to remain here, and a large number of them have been allowed the privilege of the city, obtaining passes from the proper officers.

These soldiers, while here, have been in the habit of visiting bar drinking houses, where they were able to obtain liquor which is sufficient to make any man crazy, and while under the influence of it they have become very boisterous and disorderly on the streets. Yesterday the Provost Guard was kept busy, and early in the day the guard-house was filled with drunken soldiers. In the neighborhood of Exchange barracks several fights occurred, which resulted in the combatants receiving black eyes, bloody noses and being arrested. One party of eight soldiers in the afternoon were going down Jefferson street, making a noise that could be heard for miles, and taking full possession of the sidewalks, and to the exclusion of all other men. Major Fitch, as well as as soon as he could reach his office sent a guard, who escorted the disorderly party to the guardhouse.

The selling or giving of liquor to soldiers is a violation of both the State law and orders issued by the commander of this post, and we have often, through our columns, warned barkeepers in regard to the matter, but they took no notice of the warning, and kept on. In order to put a stop to it, and to prevent the trouble caused by drunken soldiers, Major Fitch yesterday closed the following houses, situated on Market street: Fischer's, Jager Hall, M. Buehler's, Wierick's, Stormberg's, G. H. Hollenback's, Grae & Williams, Union Hall, Fashion House, William Dargatz's, G. G. Knappner's, Shanner & McSweeney's, Fitzpatrick & McLaughlin's, and McSweeney's. We understand that a number of other houses, whose proprietors have been selling liquor to soldiers, will be closed to-day. Major Fitch has been efficient in the discharge of his duties, and he deserves the thanks of our citizens for the prompt manner in which he has acted.

ARREST OF A HORSE THIEF.—On Saturday a man by the name of Thomas A. Adkins, alias Geo. H. Monroe, stopped at the house of Taylor Hord, in this county, and traded a fine bay mare with that gentleman for a colt. After Adkins left the suspicions of Mr. Hord were aroused in consequence of the actions of Adkins in making the trade, and he thought that the horse for which he had just traded was stolen. Mr. Hord, who was near at the request of Mr. Hord, started after the man, and traced him to this city. He related the facts to officers Cross and Shindler, who, being satisfied that the horse was stolen, started in pursuit of the man. They found him early yesterday morning at his house, in the alley between Market and Main and Fourth and Fifth streets, where they arrested him. The horse is supposed to have been stolen from Mrs. Bell, who resides in Shelby county, near Madison, who was near at the request of Mr. Hord, started after the man, and traced him to this city.
